

International Transport company is looking to recruit a Standard and Methods Manager to manage the Standardization & Methods department, to manage the company assets and ensure that safety, quality and performance targets are achieved. This is a new role where the Standard and Methods Manager will manage the asset portfolio, will create and update all processes, Maintenance Plan and work instruction to the Operational Maintenance Service. The Standard and Methods Manager will report to the Technical Director.

Full description will be sent to suitable candidates

ROLE:

- Developing the appropriate safety, quality and performance standards for the asset portfolio.
- Ensuring the application of the appropriate safety standards for asset maintenance.
- Achieving the quality and performance targets.
- Participating into investigations of safety critical and serious failures.
- Leading and driving improved asset performance and search for new asset maintenance strategies.
- Leading the development of long-term asset management plans and strategies.
- Manage a team by given Specific Measurable Achievable Realistic Time-bound objective and promoting team spirit
- Supporting the delivery of safe maintenance
- Manage the maintenance sub-contractors, managing tool and equipment
- Implementing Maximo
- Implementing Continuous Improvement principle, KPIs, etc
- Preparing and reviewing annual budget, maintenance expenses and explain monthly budget variances.

PROFILE :

- Master degree in Mechanical or Electrical Engineering
- Previous experience in Bus/Rail/Transport
- Safety management experience and Continuous improvement experience
- General technical knowledge
- Asset management experience
- Must possess analytical and critical ability
- Ability to communicate with staff of all levels as well as leadership quality
- Ability to delegate, supervise and control
- Innovative, creative and strategic thinking
- Problem solving ability
- Negotiation and decision making ability

SALARY:

£80k + benefits